RE: Jim Jamo - Candidate for Ingham County Circuit Court Judge

Dear Editor:

I am writing to enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Lansing attorney, Jim Jamo, to fill the upcoming vacancy on the Ingham County Circuit Court created by the retirement of Judge Paula Manderfield. I have been practicing law in Lansing since 1975 with the law firm of Sinas, Dramis, Brake, Boughton & McIntyre P.C. I have known Jim Jamo professionally for at least 20 years. I have primarily come to know him because he has frequently been on the opposite side of cases handled by our law firm. Therefore, I have had the opportunity to know Jim on a level that provides a unique and important perspective regarding his character and qualifications as an attorney. In that regard, it is frequently said that "your adversaries know you the best." With that in mind, I can say without hesitation that Jim Jamo truly makes me proud to be a lawyer.

In my many encounters with him over the years, I have always found Jim to be very knowledgeable about the law and very well prepared in the cases he handles. Jim's courtroom experience is extensive. He has litigated hundreds of cases of great variety and is highly respected by the judiciary and his fellow lawyers. More importantly, Jim has a rare sense of humility and compassion that all judges should strive to emulate. I cannot imagine anyone who would be better suited to sit as a Circuit Judge in Ingham County than Jim Jamo. Based on my many years of observing him in action, there is no doubt he will take each case seriously, study and apply the law fairly, and treat all lawyers and citizens who come before him with courtesy and respect. Jim Jamo is truly an honorable man of great integrity. He is also, in my judgment, the most qualified candidate to fill this most important position. Therefore, I encourage all of our citizens to support Jim Jamo in his campaign to become our next Circuit Judge. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
